WELCOME TO OUR FIRST JOINT ISSUE OF COLUMNS AND THE ANNUAL REPORT!

This fall, we have combined the Columns and the Annual Report publications to bring you all your favorite HNA news in one place. In the future, you can look forward to a joint fall issue each year, followed by a spring issue of Columns.

At Holy Names Academy, the arts hold a very special place in our hearts. They are not only central to the student experience, but also a living legacy of the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary (SNJM). For generations, the Sisters have nurtured creativity as a pathway to the divine—teaching music and visual arts, founding institutions such as the Holy Names Music Center in Spokane, and recognizing the arts as essential to a well-rounded education. When HNA was built, one of the first completed spaces was the auditorium, designed to host student performances that helped raise funds to complete the rest of the school. Among the many artistic legacies is the work of Sr. Paula Turnbull, SNJM '39, an acclaimed sculptor whose creations grace the region—including the life-size wooden sculpture of Blessed Marie Rose and a student, which warmly welcomes all who enter HNA's front doors.

In this issue of Columns, you will see how our Music, Arts, and Theatre Departments continue this cherished tradition. Students discover joy, meaning, and self-expression as our teachers educate the whole person. Some students pursue the arts as a lifelong passion or creative balance; others transform their talents into professional careers. This past summer, I was inspired by alumnae making their mark on the arts world: Nalica Hennings '16 starred in After Midnight at the 5th Avenue Theatre, choreographed by fellow alum Pamela Yasutake '06, a renowned tap dancer. Marisa Spooner-Le Duff '81 owns a gallery in Madison Park, domicile, showcasing emerging and established artists. Veronica Nim Olson '04, Vice President of Performance at the Bellevue Opera and an acclaimed soprano soloist, beautifully cantored at the memorial Mass for Sr. Mary Annette Dworshak, SNJM. In the pages ahead, you will meet other alumnae whose artistic journeys continue to shine beyond HNA.

We are also proud to celebrate our newest alumnae, the Class of 2025. True to the HNA tradition of excellence, they are scholars, artists, musicians, athletes, scientists, and leaders. Ninety-four percent of the class earned AP Scholar recognition, and every graduate has enrolled in one of 85 different colleges and universities. Their accomplishments, whether on stage, in the lab, on the field, or simply in showing up with resilience each day, speak to the fullness of an HNA education.

In the Annual Report, we celebrate the dedication of the Academy's donors. For over a century, the Academy has stood on the shoulders of its donors to ensure its doors are open to every eligible young woman who desires to attend. This year was no exception. We extend heartfelt gratitude to our donors, whose partnership ensures that students continue to benefit from both academic excellence and opportunities for creative expression. In this Annual Report, we highlight the Class of 1965, celebrating their 60th reunion year and their enduring commitment to their class endowment, as well as the generosity of young alumna, Grace '24, and Deb Santos, mother of Olivia '26.

Together, let us honor the legacy of the SNJM Sisters, celebrate the achievements of our alumnae, and look forward with hope to the future of Holy Names Academy.

With heartfelt appreciation,

The Arts at HNA

Art is woven into the fabric of Holy Names Academy, inspiring students to cultivate creativity and confidence. From the stage to the studio, the classroom to the chapel, artistic expression allows young women to discover their unique perspectives and share them with the world. As prolific artist, Sr. Paula Mary Turnball, SNJM '39, once wrote, “Humans cannot live without music and art. I strive to help others to fill this void.”

In this issue, we celebrate the vibrancy of HNA's arts programs—Theatre & Film, Visual Art, Music, and Choir & Voice—through the lens of current student experiences and the reflections of alumnae whose lives and careers continue to be shaped by their time under the Dome. Together, these stories affirm what the SNJM Sisters knew more than a century ago: the arts are not an accessory to education, but an essential expression of it. Holy Names Academy is committed to carrying forward that vision—helping students and alumnae find connection, joy, and success through artistic expression.

Holy Names Academy's Theatre & Film Department produces a fall play, a spring musical, and the winter New Works Festival—where students write, direct, and perform original plays, musicals, and films. Fall and spring productions require competitive auditions, while the New Works Festival welcomes all who audition and concludes with an awards ceremony judged by HNA faculty, arts professionals, and HNA alumnae.

For the past 13 years, Director of Theatre & Film Sarah Whalen has guided the program with a focus on inclusivity and student leadership. "I am so proud of the welcoming, inclusive spirit that students have fostered in our program, which has led to an increase in involvement year after year," she shares. Students lead Creative Teams—costuming, hair and makeup, visual arts, set design, and marketing—as well as lighting and sound design, and pit orchestras.

Sarah chooses works that showcase strong women making change in the world while also challenging her students. Some of her favorite past performances include Decision Height (about female WWII pilots who helped keep the United States running while the men were overseas), Radium Girls (about the women who fought against factory systems after radium exposure from painting watch dials), and Girls in the Boat (about the women who led the U.S. Olympic Rowing Team to record-breaking gold medals before and after Title IX.)

ALUMNAE HIGHLIGHTS

In August, Nalica Hennings '16 and Pamela Yasutake '06 brought their exceptional talents to After Midnight at The 5th Avenue Theatre in Seattle. Nalica, who works as a full-time performer in the Seattle area, delivered a standout performance in the production. During her time at HNA, she was a valued and accomplished student in the Theatre & Film

Department under Sarah Whalen. Sarah recalls, "Nalica had recognizable star quality even in high school. She was a bright light in every space she occupied and was instilled with an incredible sense of self, work ethic, and natural talent."

Pamela, who works as a professional choreographer and performer, choreographed After Midnight, which features skilled tap dancers and highlights vernacular dance of the Harlem Renaissance. Pamela reflects, "During my time at HNA, I received so much support from the faculty and my peers for my artistic pursuits. When I was a youth performer in Black Nativity at the Intiman Theatre, the students taking HNA's Histories of the American People class came to the performance. Seeing my classmates and teachers in the audience was definitely a highlight of my time at HNA and my experience performing."

Visual Art

With a dynamic curriculum that blends creativity, technique, and personal expression, Holy Names Academy's Visual Art Department is flourishing. Students showcase their talents in exhibitions, contests, and collaborative projects.

In drawing and painting, young artists move from foundational skills to advanced techniques, learning shading, perspective, color theory, and composition across a range of mediums. Pottery students work hands-on with clay, creating functional and sculptural pieces while learning wheel-throwing, hand-building, glazing, and kiln firing. In photography, students explore digital and traditional film processes, learning to tell stories through composition, lighting, editing, and the camera's lens. For those seeking the highest level of artistic challenge, Advanced Placement Studio Art offers a rigorous, college-level experience in Drawing, 2-D Design, or 3-D Design. Students spend the year developing a personal portfolio that reflects a sustained investigation of a theme or concept while pushing boundaries, refining techniques, and articulating the ideas behind their art.

Amy Anderson, HNA's Fine Arts Chair and art teacher for 20 years, reflects, "It is inspiring to see students building both artistic confidence and a strong visual portfolio. My goals for the art program include supporting all learners from beginners to aspiring professionals and offering them a space to discover their voice and grow as artists. My favorite part of teaching these courses is seeing students explore their passions and talents and creating meaningful pieces of work."

ALUMNA HIGHLIGHTS

Amanda Lee '95, Assistant Professor of Painting, Drawing, and Printmaking at the University of Washington, is a multidisciplinary artist specializing in printmaking, book arts, and photography. Her images and installations evoke a sense of poetic minimalism, inspired by sacred texts, transcendentalist paintings, and manuscripts. She creates art that investigates the intersection of Indigenous knowledge systems with print media and book art theory. Amanda recalls, "At Holy Names Academy, I learned that creativity, analysis, and critical inquiry are interrelated ways of thinking. Because of the foundation I built at HNA, my creative practice is richer, more thoughtful, and more resilient."

Music

Since its founding, Holy Names Academy has made music an integral part of its program. In fact, the SNJM Chronicles—the Sisters’ daily record of life at HNA—highlighted music instruction as early as 1899, noting “an encouraging attendance—110 pupils, 24 boarders and 20 for music.” Early graduates of the Academy would study solo and concert violin as well as piano. Today, HNA is a place where students can discover or continue their musical passions across four courses—Eclectic Strings, Jazz Band, Music Production, and Orchestra—or in private music lessons, offered to students before and after school and during lunch. For the past three years, HNA’s Orchestra and Choir have begun the school year with a retreat in Bellingham. Over the course of the trip, students strengthen both their musical skills and social connections while enjoying time in nature. The retreat has become a cherished tradition and a meaningful start to the year for HNA’s student musicians.

Taryn Webber, HNA’s Music Director for more than 20 years, focuses on building students’ foundational skills while encouraging them to step beyond their comfort zones. “My goal for the music department is to create a space where all students can find a musical home. Whether that means playing an instrument in one of our many instrumental ensembles, singing in the choir, or writing and recording music, we welcome every student and help them discover the right place to be their best musical selves!” says Taryn.

ALUMNA HIGHLIGHTS

Emily Hardy '12

Emily Hardy '12 worked in the music industry for more than a decade. While at HNA, Emily was a part of the Orchestra, Jazz Band, and HNA Rock Band. She also took Music Production to utilize HNA’s recording studio and equipment. Emily reflects, “HNA was an excellent place to explore a variety of creative outlets and learn to work collaboratively in music performance groups and on recording projects. I especially appreciated the encouragement from my teachers and college advisor (shout out to Ms. Webber & Ms. Diefenbach), who recognized my passion for music and entertainment and worked with me to find the perfect fit for college, which ended up being Loyola University New Orleans for their Music Industry program.”

Choir & Voice

Whenever the HNA school community attends Mass at St. Joseph Parish or a prayer service in the HNA chapel, it is treated to the uplifting voices of HNA's Choir, accompanied by HNA's Orchestra. Hearts are stilled, and the skills of talented vocalists shine during the many performances throughout the year. HNA offers Concert Choir and Advanced Choir to all grade levels. The HNA Choir performs annually at the Archdiocesan High School Choir Festival at Benaroya Hall and at the Elliott Bay Music Educators Festival. During their senior year, students take on extra responsibilities and leadership positions.

Every year, students also audition to be a part of large honor choirs and sing with others in the state and country who are equally passionate about choral music. These students learn from this unique and rigorous experience and bring back renewed energy and enthusiasm for HNA's program.

For students ready to take on a more advanced and diverse repertoire, HNA offers Vocal Ensemble—a year-long course that meets during the school day and provides an opportunity for vocalists to refine their skills and grow as musicians. Under the direction of Dr. Jean-Marie Kent, HNA's Director of Choirs, Vocal Ensemble competed at the State competition in 2025, for the first time in 14 years. When selecting music, Jean-Marie chooses pieces that resonate with students' lives and connect to the world around them. One particularly moving piece, Song of Miriam, was prepared for Baccalaureate, capturing both the hesitation of a first step and the confidence gained in taking it. Jean-Marie reflects, "The students in our choirs inspire me every day. Together we create artistic beauty, share deep conversations, and make friendships that last a lifetime."

ALUMNA HIGHLIGHTS

Annie Stanger '15

Annie Stanger '15 is a middle school choir director in Snoqualmie, Washington, and sings in two Seattle-based community choirs. Reflecting on her time under the Dome, she shares, "My involvement in Choir at HNA was completely life-transforming. In both Concert Choir and Vocal Ensemble, I learned how to work as a successful team with my fellow singers, found confidence in my own instrument, and made some of my strongest friendships. My love for choir continued into college and now into adulthood. My life wouldn't be on this path if I hadn't started singing in choir at HNA with wonderful directors and talented peers."

50th-YEAR/50+ REUNION

Cheers to the Cadets of 1975, who celebrated their 50th reunion with a luncheon at HNA on May 31. The classes of '70, '65, '60, '55, and '50 also had wonderful representation to celebrate their milestone reunion year. The celebration included a Mass, short program, and refreshments paired with social time and school tours. Notably, seven women from the Class of 1950 attend their 75th Reunion, which included one of HNA's first graduates of color, Dolores Browne '50, as well as an alumna, Pat Emard Borer '50, who traveled from Anchorage, AK, to celebrate with her classmates.

HNA IN L.A.:

BUILDING BONDS BEYOND THE DOME

HNA alum across decades enjoyed connecting over their shared alma mater.

ALUMNAE WINE TASTING

Wine under the sun on the HNA patio, or in the historic parlors, is something not to be missed. More than 100 people sampled delicious Washington wine and enjoyed light bites at the Sip, Sip, Hooray! Wine Tasting at HNA event on June 6. Alumnae along with their family and friends supported HNA and the HNA Alumnae Association through wine purchases at the event. Thank you to Damsel Cellars, Dineen Vineyards (an alum parent-owned winery), Market Vineyards, and Virtue Cellars for their generosity in sharing the proceeds with HNA.

In June, alumnae from seven different class years gathered in Los Angeles for an evening of pizza, reminiscing, and community building. The comradery was instant—laughter and Cougar pride filled the evening, reminding everyone of the strength of the HNA sisterhood.

Regional meet-ups are a wonderful way to keep the HNA spirit alive and connect with alumnae in your city. The Alumnae Office looks forward to more gatherings across the country.

If you would like to bring Cougars together in your area—or request a visit from HNA—please reach out to alumnae@holynames-sea.org.

2024 - 2025

Annual Report

At Holy Names Academy, everything we do begins and grows from the strong roots we share in community. The school's 2024-2025 theme, Rooted in Relationship, reflects the belief that the bonds among students, families, teachers, alumnae, and friends provide the foundation for learning, growth, and purpose.

This theme also speaks directly to the Academy's mission: to inspire young women of diverse beliefs and backgrounds to excel in life with confidence and courage, to think critically, act with purpose, advocate for justice, serve with compassion, and lead with integrity. This mission is possible only because of the enduring relationships that connect us—relationships nurtured in classrooms, strengthened through service, and sustained by the generosity of the Academy's broader community.

For me, these roots are deeply personal. As an HNA graduate, I carry with me the lifelong friendships and values I formed at the Academy. I also think of my own parents, who remain dedicated supporters of the Academy. Their ongoing generosity reflects their belief in the extraordinary power of this education and their commitment to ensuring that students today and tomorrow can share in the same opportunities.

Your generosity strengthens and extends these roots. Every contribution is more than a gift—it is an investment in the people and relationships that make Holy Names Academy thrive. Because of your support, the school's tuition assistance program is stronger than ever. This past year, the Academy provided $2.28 million in financial aid from interest-bearing accounts through the stewardship of its robust endowment program, which exceeded its fundraising goal by 53%. We celebrated Anne Read-Andersen '82 and Erich Andersen's establishment of a transformative fund for financial aid, as well as Nancy Schoeggl '82 and her family's generous creation of a fund dedicated to meeting the growing need for expertise in student learning styles and differences. Throughout this year, every contribution strengthened the connections that nurture our students' potential, support our faculty and staff, and inspire the next generation of leaders.

In the following pages, you will read more names of those who generously contributed to the Academy during the 2024-2025 school year. These supporters help ensure the Academy's financial vitality—nurturing deep roots through endowment giving, meeting the school's daily operational needs through the steadfast support of current parents, and encouraging fresh blooms of generosity from the next generation of alumnae donors. While support for Holy Names Academy's mission takes many forms, each contribution represents more than dollars; it is an expression of belief in the Academy's enduring mission and a commitment to the relationships that make Holy Names Academy flourish.

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, thank you for being deeply rooted in our mission and helping us continue to grow from strength to strength.

With gratitude,

DEEP ROOTS

The Class of 1965 Scholarship Endowment

Members of the Class of 1965

Beneath every vibrant, thriving tree lies a network of deep roots—unseen, but essential to anchoring and sustaining life through every season. In the same way, scholarship endowments create strong roots of reliable support for Holy Names Academy, ensuring that the mission endures for generations.

While planning their 50th reunion, the Class of 1965 wanted to mark their years together under the Dome by preserving access to an exceptional education, celebrating lifelong friendships, and leaving a lasting legacy. The result was the establishment of the Class of 1965 Scholarship Endowment.

An endowment is an investment fund carefully stewarded by the Academy's Board of Trustees to provide annual returns. It is a perpetual gift that ensures HNA's doors remain open to every eligible young woman—regardless of her family's financial circumstances.

HNA currently has 155 named and class scholarship endowments, each providing tuition assistance to at least one student annually. Endowments are established at $5,000 with a commitment to grow the principal amount to $25,000 within five years. Once the investment has grown to $25,000, the income it generates is used for tuition assistance.

The Class of 1965 has raised more than $78,000 since 2015, including a generous $7,000 gift in celebration of their 60-year reunion at HNA's 50th-year/50+ Reunion.

EXCEPTIONAL EDUCATION

For some, the Academy's hallmark of academic excellence remains the primary reason for giving. Merrily Hartz Hornell '65, now a retired elementary school teacher, reflects, "Pride for my education has been a part of my life since college. When I applied to Gonzaga University, the interviewer commented that he was sure of Holy Names Academy candidates."

The Class of 2025 was admitted to 243 institutions and received more than $32 million in academic awards—proof that the Academy's tradition of excellence continues.

For Linda Jeanne De La Vergne '65, her HNA education was the foundation for her career as an insurance agent and a life of service. “Holy Names Academy is where I learned to conduct my life with integrity, loyalty, and faith—these values filtered into my career and my roles in different Catholic parishes.”

- Kathy Todd '65

LIFELONG FRIENDSHIPS

For many, the endowment represents a depth of relationship and source of identity. This class cherishes their milestone reunions, and when COVID cancelled their 55th, Sr. Mary C. Boys, SNJM '65, started a Class of 1965 bi-weekly video call. They have not missed a call in five years!

Gerry Helt Coupe '65 shares, “When a class comes together on a project like an endowment, it unites that group of women in a new and deeper way. We communicate more and discover creative ways to generate funds, such as giving to our scholarship in memory of loved ones or in honor of birthdays, anniversaries, and Christmas. It becomes a reason to celebrate as a class. Our next goal is $100,000. Every HNA class should start an endowment by their 20th reunion and keep it building every year, dollar by dollar.”

For these alumnae, the endowment honors their formative experiences at the Academy and sustains the community that helped shape their path. They hope to inspire today's students to one day do the same.

LASTING LEGACY

At the heart of every endowment is a gift that grows and gives forever. Kathy Todd '65, lead donor for this year's fundraising campaign, inspired her classmates by saying, “Leaving a lasting legacy is an impressive accomplishment!”

For these alumnae, legacy and Holy Names Academy go back nearly a century. Sr. Mary C. Boys, SNJM '65

SINCE 2015, THE CLASS
OF 1965 HAS RAISED
MORE THAN $78,000.

explains, “My mother, HNA alumna 1933, very much wanted me to follow in her footsteps, but money was tight. My aunt, Kay Wegner, offered to pay my tuition. It is in gratitude for her generosity that I try to return the favor.”

Their endowment is more than financial—it is an opportunity to cement their legacy and align their class with the mission of Holy Names Academy for generations to come.

“I have a deep commitment to HNA. My mother, aunts, daughters, nieces, and great nieces have attended Academy schools—it is a worthwhile place to put my money,” reflects Linda Jeanne De La Vergne '65.

In a world that can feel uncertain, endowments provide something rare: reliable, lasting support that allows the Academy to live out its mission with purpose and courage. Notably,

HNA endowment funds have nearly doubled over the last decade thanks to the unwavering generosity of the Academy's community.

“Our class endowment makes it possible for girls to have the same opportunity to receive the great education we did,” says Karen Coury Stevens '65. Kay McWalter Tyllia '65 adds, “My husband and I want to help future families provide their daughters with an exceptional HNA education. That is why we contribute to my class endowment and include the Academy in our wills.”

When asked what they hope future students will know about the women behind this endowment, members of the Class of 1965 reflected on the values behind their endowment. “Students should know that we care about the future of HNA and maintaining its traditions,” notes Merrily Hartz Hornell '65. Gerry Coupe '65 emphasizes, “We did not become who we are today on our own. The women who came before us paved the way. It is our responsibility to honor and protect the history and excellence of the Academy. As the school song that we sang at assemblies goes, Holy Names Forevermore.”

Enrichment Fund in Action

In December 2024, the HNA community joyfully gathered to celebrate its annual Deck the Dome and raised more than $165,000 for a new Student Life enrichment fund. Donations are being used to bolster student events, expand off-campus activities, inspire club engagement, and provide parent education opportunities.

- The 11th grade experienced a fun afternoon of skating during their field trip to the Kraken Community Iceplex this past spring. Funds were used to help offset the costs of skating admission and charter bus transportation.

- In September, the 9th and 10th grades jumped into the fun at their annual field trip to the Washington State Fair. Student fees for this trip were subsidized, including the cost of the charter bus taken to and from Puyallup.
- This school year, student clubs can apply for grants to help cover the costs of needed items and materials.
- Parents continue to have access to ParentMap's webinar series, ParentEd Talks. These webinars feature accomplished parenting experts and cover topics such as building resilience, navigating screen time, fostering independence, and understanding youth mental health.

- Our beloved surprise “Christmas Morning” for the students with hot chocolate, cookies, and caroling is coming again soon...shhhh!
- Fun Days sprinkled throughout the year mean that students get to finish classes early and take part in activities happening throughout the school. From playing BINGO or cornhole, to bouncing in large inflatables, HNA students get the chance to be kids.

ONE DAY FOR HNA

A Celebration of Love and Joy

Holy Names Academy's annual day of giving, One Day for HNA, on February 12 was a celebration of love and joy! In 24 hours, nearly 400 donors—our community of alumnae, parents, faculty & staff, trustees, grandparents, and friends—collectively gave almost $75,000! The money raised will be allocated to The HNA Fund to inspire young women and educate the whole person. Your generous support makes all the difference!

Grace '24

In February 2025, Grace '24 was in the throes of her first year of college at the University of Washington, ambitiously tackling a level 400 course—one she says she would not have had the confidence to take had it not been for her HNA education. “It was a really hard class,” she says, “but I knew I could do it!” She showed up—just like she did for her recent alma mater on February 12, when she participated in HNA’s annual day of giving, One Day for HNA. For Grace, it was not about the size of the donation, but about showing up and participating. She knew she was contributing to something bigger, giving back to a place that supported her and helped her get to where she is today. Soon she will apply for her college major with the goal of becoming an occupational therapist. She is grateful to HNA for nurturing her confidence and helping her on her path forward, preparing her to take on new challenges.

“HNA inspired me to grow and discover who I was in the world, both academically and personally. I became stronger, more resilient, and more empathetic because of the support of the teachers and staff at HNA. Because of the reading and writing skills I developed at HNA, I was able to enroll in a 400-level philosophy course in my first year in college. Thank you, HNA!”

“HNA inspired me to grow and discover who I was in the world...”

CHEER 2025

An Evening of Growth and Giving

Each spring, the Holy Names Academy gymnasium undergoes a transformation that feels almost cinematic. This year, the familiar court, home to athletic triumphs and school spirit, became a luminous gathering space, and the heart of the HNA community took center stage.

CHEER 2025 brought together alumnae, families, faculty, and friends for an evening that honored the essence of HNA: education, empowerment, and enduring connection. This year also marked the debut of a new emcee, who is an alum and long-term sub, Sophia Looney '16, whose warmth and wit brought fresh energy to the evening.

The evening began with a moment of deep gratitude: the presentation of the Blessed Marie Rose Award to John and Susan Holt, whose quiet leadership and unwavering generosity have left a lasting legacy. As the room rose in a standing ovation, it was clear their impact had touched every corner of the community.

"I was so pleased to hear that John and Susan Holt received the Blessed Marie Rose Award—they are most deserving...I don't think that they ever said 'no' to a request for serving or giving."

- Liz Eldredge Swift '71, Former Head of School & Principal.

The Fund-a-Need moment was led by Kim Draggoo, beloved English teacher and Liz Swift Distinguished Teacher Award recipient, whose heartfelt speech reminded guests why HNA matters. She spoke candidly about perseverance—how she encourages students to embrace imperfection, keep trying, and trust that growth takes time. Her message, rooted in humility and hope, reflected the spirit of Holy Names Academy: a community that shows up, lifts up, and believes in every student's potential.

As the evening drew to a close, the message was unmistakable: CHEER is more than an event. It is a testament to what is possible when a community comes together with purpose and heart.

SUPPORT BRANCHES

How Current Parent Support Shapes Futures

There is a kind of magic that grows from the deep roots of a tree and becomes part of a larger story—these are the support branches. At Holy Names Academy, it is seldom a single moment or act that truly makes a difference. Instead, it is the continual growth from those roots—specifically, the dedication of HNA's current parents—who, season after season, nurture the HNA community through their ongoing support and generosity. For current parent Deb Santos, walking the Academy halls and feeling the surge of joy at CHEER strengthens her desire to give. Offering her family's Maui timeshare as an auction item at CHEER reflects that desire. "The worth of any act," she says, "is measured in the stories it sets in motion, the opportunities it opens, and the quiet assurance it offers the next generation: You are seen. You are valued. Your dreams matter." What follows is a closer look at the heart behind Deb's gift and how meaningful giving, even through a single auction item, can foster more possibilities for Holy Names Academy's students.

possibilities beyond the classroom are endless. Whether in performing arts, athletics, STEM, or service clubs, HNA gives students countless opportunities to explore, collaborate, and grow. These experiences are as formative as any lesson learned within four walls.

WHAT INSPIRES YOUR PHILANTHROPY, AND HOW DID THAT LEAD TO THE DONATION OF YOUR MAUI TIMESHARE?

For me, philanthropy is a celebration of hope and the belief that through shared commitment and deliberate action, we can shape a better future. My path as a donor has been shaped by personal experience and a conviction that the power of education transforms lives. Donating our Maui timeshare comes from a desire to give back and to share the gift of joy and rest with someone else while supporting a cause I care deeply about. Seeing the excitement in the room and watching the Holt family win last year was exhilarating. Their joy reinforced my belief that acts of generosity, large or small, can inspire hope and make a tangible difference.

WHAT KIND OF IMPACT DO YOU HOPE YOUR SUPPORT HAS ON STUDENTS AND THE HNA COMMUNITY?

I hope whatever I offer opens doors for students who might otherwise face barriers. I want every student to feel seen, valued, and supported by a community that believes in them. Financial resources can fund scholarships, programs, or technology—but just as powerful is the message it sends: You are worth investing in.

WHAT WOULD YOU SAY TO A CURRENT PARENT WONDERING WHETHER THEIR GIFT—BIG OR SMALL—CAN MAKE A REAL DIFFERENCE?

To any HNA parent considering a contribution, I'd say: Every gift matters. The combined generosity of the HNA family creates a profound and cumulative effect. Consider the value of your contribution not only in terms of dollars but in the message it sends. It signals to your child and the broader community that you believe in the mission of HNA and the potential of its students. You are saying, "I care," and that is something money alone cannot measure.

WHAT FIRST DREW YOUR FAMILY TO HOLY NAMES ACADEMY?

From our first campus tour, I was struck by a culture that honors tradition while embracing innovation. You can feel the Academy's history in its halls and see it reflected in generations of alumnae shaping the world. But that legacy is also alive in the present—it sets high expectations and offers the encouragement to reach them. The breadth of AP courses, honors tracks, and unique electives made it clear that learning at HNA isn't one-size-fits-all. It's about stretching beyond limits while honoring each student's passions.

I was also drawn to the school's commitment to empowerment. In an all-girls environment, students are encouraged to speak, lead, and discover without constraint. The confidence and purpose I heard in the voices of students and alumnae were qualities I hoped would take root in my own child. Leadership here isn't theoretical—it's practiced every day.

Faith and spiritual formation were essential for our family. We value reflection, gratitude, and service, and HNA's mission—rooted in Catholic tradition yet welcoming to all faiths—resonated deeply. I love that spiritual reflection and a call to service are ingrained into daily life, nurturing both intellect and heart.

The school's commitment to nurturing the whole person and

DOROTHY McBURNEY FOUTY
VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR AWARD:*TITANIA LIMANARDJA

This award is presented to an individual who has repeatedly demonstrated extraordinary support for HNA's mission. This year, the Academy recognized alumna parent Titania Limanardja (Cleia Yuniardi '24). During the 2023-2024 school year, under Titania's leadership, the Parent Board and their families helped build multiple tiny homes in Sound Foundations NW's Hope Factory. Titania also played a crucial role in organizing other family-oriented service projects, such as coordinating meal preparations for the Jubilee Women's Center. Julie Tilghman, HNA's Director of Campus Ministry, beautifully captured Titania's character: "She has a generous spirit with love for Holy Names Academy and its mission to help those who are disadvantaged."

YOUNG ALUMNA COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD:*SOPHIA LOONEY '16

After graduating from HNA, Young Alumna Community Service Award recipient Sophia Looney '16 attended Cal Poly San Luis Obispo, where she studied Architectural Engineering and Spanish, staying an additional year to earn her master's in Architectural Engineering and graduating with a dual BS and MS in 2021. While living in Chicago and working as a structural engineer at Thornton Tomasetti after college, Sophia became involved in the ACE Program as a mentor to high school students interested in pursuing a career in STEM. As a student participant in ACE during her time at HNA, Sophia was thrilled to "pay it forward," and during her time as an ACE team leader, she realized a passion for teaching. Sophia is currently a long-term substitute teacher at HNA, where colleagues and students alike benefit from her enthusiasm and joy.

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNA AWARD:NANCY COLOBONG

Nancy Colobong Smith '92 has more than 29 years of experience as a nephrology nurse in multiple roles, from direct care to leadership. She earned her Master's in Nursing from the University of Washington and is a Clinical Nurse Specialist for inpatient Nephrology, Dialysis & Transplant at the University of Washington Medical Center (UWMC). She is an active member in the UWMC Equity, Diversity & Inclusion (EDI) Committee, an EDI Peer Trainer, and a member of the UW Medicine Bias Incident Report Committee. She was the lead RN in the first FDA trial in the United States of the Wearable Artificial Kidney. Nancy serves on regional and national boards, including the American Nephrology Nurses Association (ANNA) Board of Directors, where she was the first Asian-American National President. She is passionate about education, mentoring, and creating resources and systems that support individuals in optimizing their health.

BLESSED MARIE ROSE AWARD:

JOHN HOLT & SUSAN TRAINOR HOLT

This year's Blessed Marie Rose Award went to alumnae parents John Holt and Susan Trainor Holt (Gemma '13, Katrina '15, and Portia '20), a couple whose deep commitment to the Academy reflects the generosity of spirit held by the foundress of the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary. Since 2015, both have held significant roles within our community. Susan served on the Development Committee and volunteered as an Annual Giving Leadership Solicitor. Both John and Susan were active on two Capital Campaign Committees—Foundation for the Future and Transcend. John continues to hold key roles on the Board Operations and Investment Committees and served as a member of the Board of Trustees for nine years. John and Susan also established a family endowment, to which they continue to faithfully contribute. Their dedication and service have truly been invaluable to the HNA community.

CHARLIE AWARD:

ABBY KOVAC

Each year, students, faculty, and staff vote to honor a community member who exemplifies the spirit of kindness embodied by Charlie Wheelock, a longtime member of HNA's maintenance team. Abby Kovac was chosen as this year's recipient for her fun, loving presence under the Dome. With a bachelor's degree in physical education and health from Gonzaga University, Abby taught elementary and middle school PE for five years before coming to HNA, where she has been teaching PE and Health for the past two years. Abby is also an active member of the coaching staff, supporting the basketball, flag football, and soccer programs as well as moderating the Pickleball Club. In addition, she is in the process of earning her master's degree in coaching and athletic administration. Abby's positive attitude and energetic spirit bring joy to everyone she encounters, both colleagues and students alike.

LOEKEN RECOGNITION AWARD:

ALEX DZWONKOWSKI '07

This award, established and endowed by Wil and Pat Loeken IM, '50, seeks to recognize a staff member who has gone the extra mile in service to the Academy. As a pillar of the Academic Office team for the past four years, Alex Dzwonkowski '07 plays an essential role in the school's day-to-day success. Often working and planning behind the scenes, she supports teachers, students, and parents with incredible dedication. Alex consistently creates a welcoming and supportive environment where everyone feels seen and helped, exemplifying the SNJM Core Value of hospitality and contributing to the success of HNA's mission.

LIZ ELDREDGE SWIFT '71

DISTINGUISHED TEACHING AWARD:

NATALIE RADICH

Natalie Radich, this year's recipient of the Liz Eldredge Swift '71 Distinguished Teaching Award, has been at HNA for seven years. Natalie cares deeply about HNA's community and mission. A biology and honors chemistry teacher with a BS in Biology from Oregon State University and an MA in Teaching from Western Oregon University, Natalie is known as an outstanding educator who always goes the extra mile for her students in the classroom and in the bowling alley, as HNA's bowling coach. Her students appreciate that she is always looking for a way to help them understand the material and that she is truly enthusiastic about the subject she teaches. She goes above and beyond without seeking recognition, but her impact resonates deeply with all.
